JENN ROSSI

TURNBULL WINE CELLARS - DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL SALES

For Jenn Rossi, wine has always been about more than what's in the glass — it's about the people, stories, and connections behind it. With over 20 years of experience in hospitality and wine, she brings a blend of expertise, energy, and genuine warmth to her role as Director of National Sales at Turnbull Wine Cellars.

Jenn began her career in her hometown of Columbus, Ohio, earning a degree in hospitality management from The Ohio State University before spending a decade with Cameron Mitchell Restaurants. There, she held leadership roles ranging from beverage manager to managing partner, cultivating her passion for hospitality and team building. In 2013, her love of wine drew her west to Napa Valley, where she joined Miner Family Winery. Over 11 years, she played a key role in expanding markets, strengthening brand presence, and ultimately leading national sales.

At Turnbull, Jenn approaches sales as a collaboration — focusing on building strong, lasting partnerships that reflect the same care and authenticity as the wines themselves. For her, joining Turnbull is a dream come true: “It's everything I love about wine — family-owned, rooted in Oakville's history, and full of heart. Sharing that story over a bottle and a meal is the best part of what I do.”
