JENN ROSSI

TURNBULL WINE CELLARS - DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL SALES

For Jenn Rossi, wine has always been about more than what's in the glass — it's about the people, the stories, and the connections formed around the table. With more than 20 years of experience in hospitality and wine, she brings expertise, energy, and genuine warmth to her role as Director of National Sales at Turnbull Wine Cellars.

Originally a French major who spent several summers living in France, Jenn's love of culture and cuisine naturally led her into the food and wine world. After earning her degree in hospitality management from The Ohio State University, she spent a decade with Cameron Mitchell Restaurants in Columbus, rising from beverage manager to managing partner. In 2013, she moved to Napa Valley to join Miner Family Winery, where she spent 11 years expanding markets and ultimately leading national sales.

At Turnbull, Jenn approaches sales as a true partnership — rooted in authenticity, collaboration, and long-term relationships. "It's everything I love about wine — family-owned, rooted in Oakville's history, and full of heart. Sharing that story over a bottle and a meal is the best part of what I do."

When she's not on the road, Jenn can be found hiking throughout the Bay Area or knitting — a hobby she picked up more than 15 years ago to unwind after long days in restaurants. Her favorite Turnbull wine is the Oakville Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon, affectionately called the "ballerina" for its strength and elegance. Her ideal last meal? Grower Champagne and crispy French fries.
